Memorandum

To: Richmond County Council

Date: September 2, 2026

RE: Agenda Item – Committee of the Whole, Sep. 8, 2026: Municipal Awareness Week

Background:

Municipal Awareness Week in Nova Scotia is typically held in November of each year. It is intended to recognize the vital role municipalities play in shaping our communities.

Several municipalities find ways to celebrate this week through activities and awareness programs. The Clerk and I found one from Barrington that lends itself well to our community and would encourage young people to become more aware of – and potentially more engaged in – municipal government.

ATTACHED: Council for a Day Contest in Barrington.

SUGGESTIONS:

Implement the program in a very similar fashion to the way it ran in Barrington.

Open to all grade 5 and 6 students (to account for several split classes across the County).

Partnering with MLA's office potentially and local media outlets community benefits, safety, etc. A key takeaway from the meeting was the agreement to establish bi-annual update meetings between the municipalities.

Gasunie

Gasunie is Dutch state-owned energy infrastructure company responsible for developing and operating gas and hydrogen infrastructure across the Netherlands and parts of Germany. In hydrogen, Gasunie is the entity responsible for developing a pipeline from Rotterdam to the German border.

Wednesday 20 May – Meeting with representative from Gasunie to learn more about the completed hydrogen pipeline work, the next phase of work and the current timeline for completion that is being worked towards. The Delta-Rhine Corridor which will connect the Port of Rotterdam to the Dutch hydrogen backbone and ultimately to Germany is currently being planned to be finalized by 2030.

Hydrogen Hub Aachen

Thursday 21 May – Meeting with Project Manager at Hydrogen Hub Aachen to understand how they went about developing a hub in the context of the Strait of Canso Clean Fuels Domestic Use Strategy. There is a lot of learning from the HHA around co-location of small production pilots and scalable off-take opportunities.

North Sea Port

North Sea Port is the Port Authority organization for the traditional ports of Ghent and Zeeland spanning eight local government entities across both the Netherlands and Belgium.

Wednesday 20 May – Meeting with the Commercial Manager at North Sea Port focused on green transition activities, port governance and multi-municipal collaboration on port development and promotion. Follow-up meeting was arranged for September.

Port of Antwerp-Bruges

Port of Antwerp-Bruges is the second-largest port in Europe and is a major petro-chemical cluster. The Port is developing activities across the hydrogen value chain, including import, production, distribution, and end-use in industry and transportation.

Wednesday 20 May - Meeting with Port of Antwerp-Bruges Chief Business Development & Transition Officer, Tom Hautekie, along with representatives from the NS Department of Energy, focused on updating both sides on activities at either end of the Atlantic Hydrogen Corridor. The Port of Antwerp-Bruges Reception in the evening was spent catching up with the Port's Canada team, whom MOCR and Town of Port Hawkesbury have been speaking to since 2024.

Friday 22 May - Tour of Port of Antwerp-Bruges by bus seeing and learning about hydrogen end-use applications, green hydrogen production facilities, hydrogen pipeline, and general industrial activities in the port.

Port of Rotterdam

Port of Rotterdam is the largest port in Europe and a leading energy and industrial hub. It's hydrogen activities span the full value chain, including production, large-scale imports. Dedicated storage and pipeline infrastructure, and distribution.

Tuesday 19 May – Tour of the Port of Rotterdam in boat with particular focus on the Maasvlakte section of the port. Highlights included closeup views of container terminals, LNG carriers, an offshore wind monopile staging area, an e-methanol powered feeder carrier, and the largest vessel in the world: The Pioneering Spirit.

Tech Talks

The World Hydrogen Summit exhibition features a series of 15-minute 'tech talks' in which industry and government representatives provide high-level updates from across the global hydrogen value chain.

Wednesday 20 May - How to Develop a Robust Hydrogen Supply Chain in an Uncertain World was presented by Haskoning, a Dutch engineering consultancy. The talk focused on how to derisk supply chain development in an uncertain world that needs to decarbonize. They proposed to try and make as many components in the chain as possible scalable, e.g. production and import, transportation, and deep sea port development.

Wednesday 20 May - From Pipe to Power: Building a Hydrogen Ready Energy System in Germany was a panel discussion with representatives from the German federal government, a German gas utility and the Hydrogen Berlin Cluster initiative. Germany has recently adopted its 'Hydrogen Acceleration Act', which simplifies approval procedures by – among other things – bringing together previous fragmented legal streams and enabling natural gas approvals to be applied to hydrogen developments too. The new German government is committed to its 2045 Net Zero goal and wants to ramp up its hydrogen commitments by supporting project and infrastructure development.

3. Key Takeaways

The global hydrogen export-import ecosystem is still in the early stages of development

The World Hydrogen Summit demonstrated that the international hydrogen market is progressing, but the infrastructure and commercial relationships required to support large-scale trade are still being established. Ports such as Rotterdam and Antwerp-Bruges are actively developing import terminals, storage, distribution networks and industrial applications, while exporters are working to establish long-term supply chains.

Hydrogen infrastructure is taking longer to develop than originally anticipated, but alternative transportation and distribution solutions are being developed in parallel

Meetings with Gasunie and the Port of Rotterdam demonstrated that Europe's hydrogen pipeline network will take years to fully develop, particularly for connections between major ports and industrial centres. At the same time, Rotterdam and German ports such as Duisburg are exploring the use of existing inland waterways and other infrastructure to move hydrogen carriers such as ammonia into Germany before dedicated hydrogen pipelines are available.

Ports are emerging as critical hubs for the production, import, distribution and use of hydrogen and hydrogen-derived fuels

The visits to Rotterdam and Antwerp-Bruges demonstrated that ports are positioning themselves as much more than points of import and export. Both ports are developing integrated hydrogen ecosystems encompassing production, imports, storage, pipelines, industrial users, shipping and fuel applications.

Securing credible long-term offtake remains critical to unlocking large-scale hydrogen investment

A recurring theme across discussions was that producing hydrogen or ammonia is only one component of establishing a viable project; developers also need customers willing to commit to purchasing the product over the long term.

Near-term hydrogen demand is likely to be driven by established industrial applications before emerging end uses reach significant scale

The Summit highlighted a broad range of potential hydrogen applications, including transportation, shipping, aviation, and power generation. However, the most immediate demand continues to come from existing industrial uses such as ammonia production, refining and chemicals.

Co-location of hydrogen production with local offtake can provide a pathway to early market development

The Hydrogen Hub Aachen discussions and the Resato meeting demonstrated the potential value of developing smaller-scale hydrogen production alongside identified local demand rather than waiting for large-scale production and export infrastructure to be established. This approach can create opportunities to develop local expertise, demonstrate technologies, establish safety and regulatory practices, and build demand.

Regulatory and policy frameworks remain critical enablers—and potential bottlenecks—for hydrogen development

The discussion on Germany's Hydrogen Acceleration Act highlighted how regulatory processes can either facilitate or constrain project development. Across Europe, governments are continuing to establish frameworks covering permitting, certification, infrastructure, subsidies and demand creation, while developers continue to navigate evolving requirements.

Cross-border partnerships between governments, municipalities, ports, industry and technology providers will be essential to developing hydrogen markets

The Summit demonstrated that hydrogen development is not being driven by individual organizations acting independently. The discussions with the City of Rotterdam were particularly relevant in demonstrating how municipalities can establish direct relationships to exchange information on infrastructure, utilities, safety, community benefits and social licence.

Re: Letter of Support – D'Escousse Civic Improvement Society Community Garden Project

To the Local Food Security Initiatives Program,

On behalf of Richmond County Council, I am pleased to offer our support for the D'Escousse Civic Improvement Society's application to establish an accessible community garden on the D'Escousse Hall property.

Council recognizes the important role community organizations play in strengthening food security, reducing social isolation, and creating opportunities for residents to work together toward shared goals. This proposal makes thoughtful use of an underutilized community asset by transforming the former rink into a permanent space for growing fresh food, sharing knowledge, and supporting residents of all ages and abilities. The project's emphasis on accessibility, volunteer leadership, and partnerships reflects a practical and sustainable approach to community development.

The project also aligns well with Richmond County's strategic priorities, particularly our commitment to healthy, inclusive communities; supporting aging in place; encouraging volunteerism and community partnerships; and improving residents' quality of life through local initiatives that strengthen rural communities.

Richmond County Council is pleased to support this application and wishes the Society every success in its efforts to expand access to healthy, locally grown food for our community.

Sincerely,

Dear Strait Area Chiefs, Mayors, and Wardens:

Thank you for your correspondence dated July 7, 2026, regarding student residences at the Nova Scotia Community College (NSCC) Strait Area Campus in Port Hawkesbury. I appreciate you taking the time to shared perspectives regarding student housing capacity and broader housing pressures in the region.

The Province recognizes that access to safe and affordable housing is an important factor in supporting student success, as well as in strengthening communities across Nova Scotia. We are aware that demand for student housing at NSCC campuses can place additional pressure on local rental markets, particularly in rural areas where housing supply may be limited. The work underway by municipalities to address regional housing needs through planning, infrastructure, and partnerships is an important part of the broader response to these challenges.

NSCC plays a key role in developing the skilled workforce needed to support priority sectors across the province, including emerging industries such as renewable energy and marine-related fields. Ensuring that students are able to access training opportunities is an important consideration as we continue to support economic growth and workforce development in all regions of Nova Scotia.

Decisions regarding capital investments, including student residence capacity, require careful consideration of a range of factors, including current and projected demand, available resources, and alignment with provincial priorities. The information you have provided will help inform ongoing discussions with our partners.

Thank you again for writing on behalf of your county.

Sincerely,

The Honourable Nolan Young
Minister of Labour, Skills and Immigration

RE: Strait Campus NSCC Sister Residence

Dear Minister Young,

On behalf of the undersigned , we are writing to respectfully request that the Province of Nova Scotia revisit the possibility of constructing an additional student residence at the NSCC Strait Area Campus in Port Hawkesbury.

The existing residence, which houses approximately 50 students, continues to experience demand well beyond its capacity. We understand that the residence could be filled several times over, leaving many students to seek housing in an already strained private rental market across the Strait Area.

At the same time, our municipalities are working diligently to address regional housing shortages through planning changes, infrastructure investments, and partnerships aimed at increasing housing supply. While these efforts are important and ongoing, there is growing concern that limited new housing stock will face additional pressure if increasing numbers of NSCC students must compete within the same rental market as local families, seniors, and workers.

We also note that when the current residence was originally developed, there were discussions around the potential for a sister residence to be built in the future. Given current realities, we believe the time has come to revisit that opportunity.

This request aligns closely with provincial priorities around economic growth, workforce development, and retention. The Strait Area Campus plays a critical role in training students in sectors that are central to Nova Scotia's future, including marine-related industries and the new Wind Turbine Technician program. These programs support key growth sectors identified by the province, including renewable energy, offshore development, transportation, and the marine economy.

Expanding student housing capacity would help strengthen the campus's ability to attract and retain students from across Nova Scotia and beyond, while also reducing pressure on local housing markets. More broadly, it would represent an investment in the workforce needed to support emerging economic opportunities in our region and throughout the province.

We would welcome the opportunity to discuss this matter further and explore how local municipalities, NSCC, and the province might work collaboratively to support this important expansion.

Thank you for your consideration and continued support for rural Nova Scotia and the Strait Area region.

Sincerely,

Chair, Strait Area Chiefs, Mayors, and Wardens

JULY 2026 NEWSLETTER

July 1, 2026 HAPPY CANADA DAY! Vol. 3

SPOTLIGHT ON COMMITTEES

Bylaw/Policy Committee

The Bylaw/Policy Committee helps Council develop, review, and update the Municipality's bylaws and policies. Its work ensures that Municipal rules remain current, effective, and responsive to the changing needs of the community.

The Committee is made up of all five Councillors and one member of the public. It typically meets once a month before Committee of the Whole meetings, with additional extended meetings held throughout the year. These longer sessions provide time to research issues, consider options, and carefully develop new or updated policies and bylaws before making recommendations to Council.

Welcome to the third edition of this monthly newsletter.

July starts off to a bang—weather permitting! The Municipality is proud to support community celebrations across Richmond County that honour Canada Day, culminating with fireworks displays in Lennox Passage and St. Peter's.

Summer also brings a different rhythm to Municipal government. While Council does not hold regular meetings, we remain available to address important matters as they arise. It's also a season when Councillors are out in the community, showing support for volunteers and organizations that make festivals and events such a success.

We're also pleased to welcome our summer students, who are working with community organizations throughout Richmond County—including the Municipality. They have been busy planning programs and activities for residents of all ages that will run throughout July and August.

Finally, a heartfelt thank you to the volunteers whose time and dedication make so much possible each summer. Your commitment is one of the things that makes Richmond County such a special place to live, work, and visit.

SPOTLIGHT ON COMMITTEES

Inclusive, Diverse, Equitable, Accessible Committee

The IDEA Committee helps Richmond County and the Village of St. Peter's create a more welcoming and accessible community for everyone. It provides advice on how to remove barriers and ensure municipal programs, services, facilities, and activities are inclusive.

Working together, the Committee supports both municipalities in meeting their responsibilities under Nova Scotia's Accessibility Act and the Dismantling Racism and Hate Act while promoting fairness, respect, and equal opportunities for all residents.

There are currently two vacancies on our IDEA Committee. Please visit richmondcounty.ca if you might be interested in joining!

Happy August!

As I write this, the long weekend has just passed and like many of you, I'm resting up after a full weekend of activities across the County. Many thanks to the amazing volunteers who make all the incredible events happen each summer. And here's to all the other events still to come.

Council does not meet regularly in July and August. As it stands now, we have one meeting scheduled on August 18th, and we'll resume our regular schedule of Committee of the Whole meetings on the second Tuesday of the month and regular Council meetings on the fourth Tuesday.

In this newsletter, I thought I'd share some of the ways that Council supports community groups that do incredibly important work for residents. Contributions to these groups are considered the "heartbeat of Council", and I'm pleased to share what those contributions look like.

Until next time, enjoy all that Richmond has to offer and say hi to any of us as we try to get out and about through the rest of August!

Those agreements also provided for each group to receive $2,500 in annual funding to support both the Isle Madame Historical Society and the Nicolas Denys Museum.

SEPTEMBER 2026 NEWSLETTER

September 1, 2026 Vol. 5

SPOTLIGHT ON COMMITTEES

Planning Advisory/Heritage Committee

This committee, often called the PAC, helps guide planning and development in Richmond County through our land-use bylaws and municipal planning documents. These responsibilities are assigned to Council under the Municipal Government Act and are intended to support healthy, vibrant communities while balancing economic development, sustainability, and community needs.

The Committee includes all five Councillors and two members of the public. We typically meet on the first Tuesday of each month, although meeting dates may change depending on the agenda and reports being considered.

As summer comes to a close, I hope everyone has a chance to enjoy the wonderful fall season here in Richmond County. In addition to the many festivals and events that filled July and August, this summer also brought Census takers into our communities as they worked to complete Census 2026.

One issue we heard about from Census workers was the difficulty locating some homes because civic numbers were missing or not clearly visible. While that can be an inconvenience for deliveries and visitors, in an emergency it can become a serious safety concern.

I learned that firsthand two years ago when my son had to be rushed to hospital. It was a sickening feeling to have an emergency responder stationed at the top of my driveway to make sure the ambulance didn't drive past because our civic number wasn't clearly displayed.

For less than $50, we purchased a civic number sign from Fleur-de-Lis Signs and placed it at the recommended height—about 4 to 6 feet—and 10 to 15 feet from the road. A good civic number sign is reflective and clearly visible day or night.

If your civic number isn't easy to see from the road, please consider making it a small fall project. It's a simple step that could make a very big difference when every second counts.

Until next time, please feel free to reach out if you have any questions or concerns:
